

Renaissance Seaport Casino celebrated Halloween with slots!

For those that made Oranjestad their holiday locale during All Hollow's Eve, the Renaissance Halloween Slot Tournament presented a fine way to kill an evening and win some green. Even if they didn't take home the cash, Purple Pimp Joe Griffith of Ocala, Florida and his Drag Racing Dolly of a wife Johnny-Lee were happy to win a dinner for two to Aquarius Restaurant in the Renaissance for coming in what was chosen as two of the best costumes to enter the casino that night.

Actually, they knew they were a shoe-in for the prize, as along with their daughter Mary and her husband Tony Maletto, who reside in Philadelphia but are sharing the holiday with them in Aruba, they were the only four to be wearing costumes that night. The Pirate King and Queen also won dinners at the fine restaurant, so that makes it a foursome, proving that it pays to be creative and a bit uninhibited in Aruba on Halloween!
